Three hundred and five are prohibition agents and 68 are prohibition inspectors. In all of the larger cities, including New York, Philadelphia and Chicago, the plans call for large additions to the present force of agents between now and July 1. Most of the men reinstated last week were detailed for duty in their former posts in large cities.

Mrs. Mary E. Parkins, formerly clork in the office of the prohibition commission of New York city, and Antonio Pappano of New York, arrested December 27, were indicted to-day by the Grand Jury on a charge of conspiracy in attempting to bribe Prohibition Agent Harold H. Stephenson.

Atlantic City, June 27.—Declaring that the Volstead act had proved a "curse to the public and to our country," which had cost "more lives to enforce in proportion to the number of men employed" than the world war. Dr. W. Wallace Fritz of Philadelphia.

System by which no patrolman will cover the same post on successive tours of duty. The object of the order, it is said, it is to prevent the police of the order, it is said, it is to prevent the object of the order, it is said, it is to prevent the object of the order, it is said, it is to prevent the object of the order, it is said, it.

A new effort on the part of Police Inspector William Boettler to darken the joy in the White Light District was made yesterday when he put all the patrolmen under his jurisdiction on a new system by which no patrolman will cover the same post on successive tours of duty. The object of the order, it is said, duty. The object of the order, it is said, duty.

The work of cleaning up the liquo get evidence. However, it is easy enough for the policeman on post, if he is friendly, to warn the proprietor of a cafe of the impending visit of detectives. It was said at Police Headquarters that the change was me by inspector Boettler on his own initiative and that other inspectors could follow suit if they saw fit. There is nothing in regulations or orders requiring or preventing the Attacking the prohibition law. Dr. Fritz said:

"It is teaching the public to drink secretly. It is causing mambling and immorality in homes. It is bringing blindness to scores. It is causing the solutions to scores. It is causing those who used to take a nightcap at bedinge to take dope. It has caused a large increase in the sale of marcotic drugs and a daily increase in the army of dope fiends. It is making imbedies of many and before long the insane lasylums will be overfilled. It is causing diseases of the stomach, liver, kidneys, eves and heart, all due to consumption of home brew containing fusel oil, wood alcohol, copper and other deleterious substances.

"The medical restriction of the Volstead law constitutes an indictment of the integrity of the profession. It denies the physician the right to select his remedies and decide what dose each patient requires. If the profession values its therapeutic liberty it must make a protest that well command attention.

"Are we physicians going to make a stand for public health and for our country or are we going to sit quietly back and suck our thumbs? We must decide whether prohibition and home brew, or free use of light wines and beer properly made under Government standards is the greater evil."

The Titz's address provoked frequent and enthusiastic applause from the delegates. The convention will be in season four days.

Mr. O'Malley said he was forced to the conclusion that the man had been deliberately placed in his office to use his criminal propensities to carry on such evil purposes as some of the committee or its counsel had in mind. The statement that the presence of Sohr on the committee's payroll is a "plant" was characterized by Mr. O'Malley as a pretty plea of gross incompetence on the part of Senator Meyer."

David Hirshfield, Commissioner of Accounts, sent a letter to Senator Meyer last night offering to cooperate with the Senator in ridding the legislative committee of objectionable characters.

The Mortgage On This Home

has recently been sold by us to a prominent Savings Bank. It is for $7,250 on a new, South Brooklyn, two-family house with garages. The property has been purchased by two New York business men for $15,600.

This type of dwelling is one much in demand by home-buyers. We like to make such mortgage loans when they can be made as conservatively as this one. The Savings Bank knows its investment is safe, because of the large equity behind this mortgage, and because our guarantee of principal and interest goes with it. We offer to individual investors similar mortgages to net 5 1/2 %, with the same assurance of safety.
